THE BRAND

BRAND SNAPSHOT

CURRENT POSITIONING

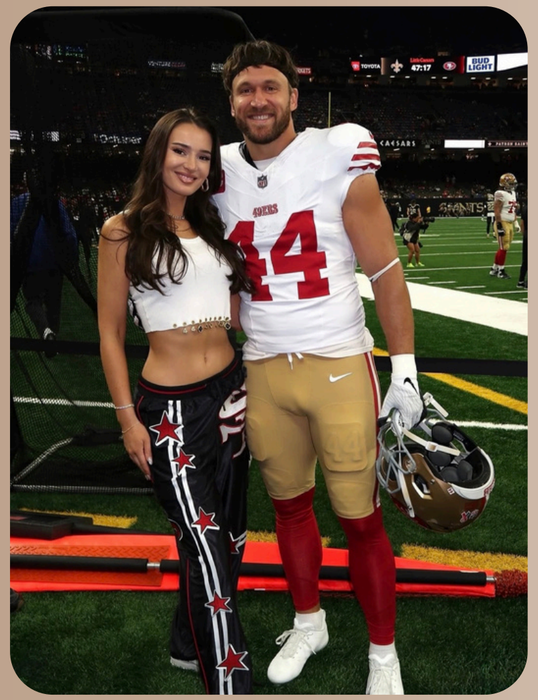

- Premium, female-first sports fashion combining officially licensed apparel with elevated, versatile pieces designed for stadium-to-street wear.

STRENGTHS

- Diversified Product Portfolio
- Capitalizes on the market white space existing between stadium-grade utility and runway-ready aesthetics

ENTRY MARKET

- Competitive Market (new entrants) and AI search

“Does the fashion-minded sports fan shop this kind of apparel year-round, or just with her team’s season? We’re still testing that out.”

~ Kristin Juszczyk, Off Season co-founder (Fortune, July 2026)

DEMAND FOLLOWS THE SCHEDULE...

Off Season quickly sold out most Knicks styles during their championship run.

...STYLE DOES NOT

Fans know who they support. They do not always know what to wear.

THE HOPE

WHAT IF OFF SEASON KNEW THEIR STYLE, NOT JUST THEIR TEAMS?

Understand style, occasion and intent, then personalize what consumers sees across search, social, the website, and CRM.

10-15%

typical revenue lift from personalization (range 5-25%)

78%

of consumers say it makes them more likely to repurchase.

76%

say personalized communication is a key factor in considering a brand.

THE CHALLENGES

THREE CHALLENGES, ONE CHAIN

DISCOVERABILITY

The value proposition is not being communicated. AI answers do not name Off Season at all in relevant searches.

IDENTITY

A brand built on collaborations can get lost in them. Kristin said, “it’s important to have your own brand identity as well, or else you can kind of get lost in it.”

COMMUNITY

Fan community belongs to the team, not to Off Season. A buyer with five pieces across five sports still sees herself as a fan of five teams, not Off Season.

⚠ Undiscoverable → ⚠ Identity not communicated → ⚠ No attachment to the brand → ⚠ No cross-team community

THE OPPORTUNITIES

THREE OPPORTUNITIES, ONE CHAIN

BE FOUND

Win search & AI discovery when fans ask what to wear.

BE KNOWN

Make Off Season— not only the team logo— the brand fans remember.

THE CUSTOMER

PRIMARY + SECONDARY MARKETS

~50% of US NFL fans are women.

PRIMARY — STYLE-FIRST FEMALE SPORTS FANS

US women, 18-34, NFL/NBA/WNBA fans, who want to show team support without giving up style, for game days, watch parties, and everyday wear.

Why her: The closest fit to Off Season's premium price point and social-led discovery. She is who OFF//MODE is built for.

SECONDARY — MULTI-SPORT LOYALISTS

5+ leagues Off Season already sells for: NFL, NBA, WNBA, F1, Team USA, and MLB (coming soon).

Smaller market at first, but most valuable overtime. Every extra league they acquire is a direct fix for seasonality.

SECONDARY — TEAM USA + US F1 FANS

73% of US F1 fans plan to attend a race. The LA28 Olympics brings the event back to the US.

Non-NFL moments that fill out the rest of the year, like spring and summer races, then a US Olympics.

Sportsnaut: NFL reveals 47% of fans are women (March 2, 2020). Formula 1 and Motorsport Network, 2025 Global F1 Fan Survey, July 1, 2025

BE CHOSEN AGAIN (COMMUNITY)

THE OFF SEASON COMMUNITY

DISCOVERABILITY → BRAND IDENTITY → COMMUNITY

THE OFF SEASON IDENTITY

- Off Season customers may support different teams, but they share the same mindset: sports are part of their style, not the limit of it.

- Once fans identify with Off Season, they have something in common beyond the logo on their jacket. A Lakers fan, Eagles fan, and F1 fan can all see themselves as part of the same Off Season world.

WHY THEY FEEL CONNECTED

- Shared identity: "I'm an Off Season girl," not just "I'm a ___ fan."
- Shared style language: Off Season becomes recognizable across teams & sports.
- Shared participation: Fans post their fits, find others, and get featured through Game Day Outfit of the Week.
- Shared evolution: As their sports calendar changes, their Off Season identity stays with them.

TEAM LOYALTY BRINGS HER IN.
OFF SEASON IDENTITY MAKES HER BELONG.

How AI Sharpens the Measurement...

ATTRIBUTION

Tracks every OFF//MODE visit to purchase on our site, and uses coded links.

GA4 ~ Google Ads

Attributes sales even on partner sites.

FORECASTING

Reads demand ahead of sports moments so inventory and spend are staged before the spike, not after.

Gemini ~ Google Trends

Forecasts demand, spots rising interest, and recommends moves.

OPTIMIZATION

Budget and creative shift in real time. Gemini reviews results every 30 days and recommends the next move.

AI Max ~ Performance Max

Indexed to today's baseline = 100 (AI Share of Voice in % of tracked prompts). Proposed 90-day pilot targets, not reported results.

THE INVESTMENT

INVESTMENT + RETURN

90-DAY PILOT DURING OFF SEASON, THEN SCALE WHAT WORKS.

PILOT TESTING

The NFL off-season. Total of $5-$10K spend on pilot.

FEBRUARY

Super Bowl wraps. We test whether sales stagnate or not.

MARCH

F1 season starts. OFF//MODE & GEO content launches.

APRIL

NBA playoffs start.

MAY

F1 Miami & WNBA season starts. Day-90 review.

1 ~ Cost

$5K-$10K

Consists of ads, email and SMS, and a no-code quiz.

2 ~ Break-Even

$49-$101K

of OFF//MODE-touched sales pays back the pilot. Revenue basis, before margin.

McKinsey: 10-15% typical lift.

3 ~ Compound

~2 Orders

pays back a $90-$120 CAC at a $98 order and about 57% peer margin. Repeat and cross-league buyers close the gap.

Day-90 Decision Gate ~ Scale OFF//MODE across the sports calendar if at least 3 of 5 dashboard targets are on track, including CAC.

A directional read on a quiz cohort against a hold-out, not a statstical proof.
External benchmarks, not Off Season's actual budget. Ongoing: about $1.6K–$3.2K per month.

NEXT STEPS

THREE MOVES TO START

MEASURE

- Run the AI audit monthly on high-value fan prompts.
- Track AI Share of Voice.
- Publish the first Fan Style Index guides.

PILOT

- Launch OFF//MODE with “What’s Your Mode?”
- Drive traffic, measured against the pilot targets.

DECIDE

- Pilot results to decide on the production build.
- Scale across the sports calendar.
- Consumer Data

Pilot Results: If the pilot hits its targets, scale OFF//MODE across the calendar.

Budget Proposal

ITEM	COST	BASIS
Google Ads AI(Performance Max, Search, Demand Gen)	$1.5K-$3K/mo	General range for an established small-to-mid ecommerce/apparel brand; industry average account runs ~$3.1K/mo
Pomelli (Creative Generation)	$0	Free during its current Google Labs experimental phase (capped at several hundred generations/mo)
CRM (Klaviyo, Email + SMS Tier)	$85-$165/mo	Scales with active profile count (~3,000-10,000 range); OFF//MODE grows this list overtime
GA4 + Search Console	0$	Free
OFF//MODE Production Build (one-time)	$50-$200/mo	Industry range for moving an AI-powered personalization/ recommendation feature from working prototype to production; the prototype itself already exists at a near-zero cost.

Supporting KPIs

+10% -9% CAC

Conversion Rate
Consistent with the -10% CAC target: at flat traffic cost, a 10% conversion lift cuts CAC by roughly the same amount

+20%

Cross-League Purchase Rate

ROI NARRATIVE

THE CHEAPEST CHANNEL DOES THE MOST WORK

GEO and SEO are owned content with near-zero marginal cost beyond production.

SAME SPEND, MORE CUSTOMERS

A 10% lower CAC buys about 11% more new customers for the same media budget.

ONE BUILD, THREE USES

The $14.9-10.1K⁎ build powers personalization, CRM segments and first-party data.
