

Supreme Dumplings Cares

For Chaniya. For Our Own.

MAY 2026 — LUPUS AWARENESS CAMPAIGN

This Is Not a Campaign. This Is Who We Are.

Chaniya's Story

A beloved Bellevue team member, Chaniya is currently in the ICU battling lupus. She is not just a colleague — she is part of our story, our family, and our heart.

Our Belief

In our culture, we take care of our own — through food, through presence, through action. This moment doesn't call for messaging. It calls for us to show up.

A Rare Alignment of Cause, Moment & Story

The Cause

Lupus Awareness Month — May gives us a nationally recognized platform to amplify Chaniya's story with purpose.

Peak Moments

May 10: World Lupus Day and Mother's Day converge — a once-a-year emotional peak for giving and community.

Community Anchor

Bellevue College roots us locally — and the founder's journey from BC student to restaurateur makes this deeply personal.

📌 This becomes bigger than fundraising — it becomes a brand-defining moment.

Campaign Big Idea

From Our Roots, We Care for Our Own

The mechanic is simple, the meaning is everything:
Buy dumplings → Help Chaniya.

What Makes This Different

Product Becomes Purpose

Every dumpling ordered carries meaning beyond the meal. The act of eating becomes an act of solidarity.

Guests Become Participants

Customers don't just dine — they contribute. Each visit is a small, powerful vote for community care.

Culture Becomes Action

Our values aren't words on a wall. This campaign proves that how we treat our own defines who we are.

Fundraising Model: Always-On (All of May)

POS Round-Up

Guests round up their total at checkout — a frictionless way to give a little with every order.

QR Code Donations

Scannable donation links on receipts, table cards, and in-store displays make giving easy at any moment.

Frozen XLB Program

50% of frozen XLB proceeds donated throughout May — turning a pantry staple into a powerful act of support.

The Purple Moment: May 10

World Lupus Day + Mother's Day

May 10 is a convergence of two powerful occasions. On this single day, we turn the dial to maximum impact:

- 100% of frozen XLB proceeds donated to Chaniya's care
- Elevated percentage of total daily sales directed to the fund
- Special in-store moments honoring mothers and fighters alike

Additional Fundraising Drivers

Red Envelope Donation Station

A culturally resonant giving tradition — guests write messages of hope and contribute donations in red envelopes, honoring both the cause and our roots.

Give Back Days

One to two dedicated days throughout May where a meaningful percentage of total sales flows directly to Chaniya's fund — driving traffic with purpose.

"Purple Dumplings for Chaniya"

A limited-time dessert dumpling crafted in ube, taro, and black sesame — purple not as a gimmick, but as a symbol. Every bite is a statement of love and solidarity.

In-Store Experience

Purple Ribbons & Butterfly Motif

Visual storytelling woven throughout the space — lupus's butterfly symbol present in every corner.

Red Envelope Wall

Guests leave messages of “加油！” (Keep Going) and “平安” (Peace) — a living wall of communal love.

Wall of Support

A dedicated space for guests to share words of encouragement directly for Chaniya.

Live Fundraising Tracker

A visible, real-time tally of donations raised — making every customer feel the collective impact grow.

Bellevue College Activation

Roots Run Deep

Our founder's journey began at Bellevue College. This campaign is an opportunity to honor that origin — and give back to the community that made us.

- Founder recognition moment on campus
- Student and alumni engagement through social and events
- Dedicated "BC Community Night" at the restaurant

Conference Anchor: Pre-Launch

Seattle Lupus & You: Empowerment Conference

Before the campaign launches publicly, we show up where it matters most — in the lupus community itself.

- Attend and support the conference
- Soft-announce the May campaign
- Build credibility and authentic connection with advocates

Why This Matters

Starting with the lupus community — not with a press release — signals that this is genuine. We earn trust before we ask for attention.

- ① Presence here positions Supreme Dumplings as a true community partner, not just a business with a promotion.

PR Storylines That Write Themselves

The Human Story

A team member fighting lupus in the ICU — and a restaurant that rallied its entire community around her. Raw, real, and deeply moving.

The Founder Arc

From Bellevue College student to restaurateur giving back to the same campus and community that shaped them. A full-circle moment.

Food as Cultural Care

In many cultures, feeding someone is the deepest form of love. This campaign makes that tradition visible and powerful for a broad audience.

Target outlets: Local TV and radio, community press, Eater Seattle, and Pacific Northwest food culture publications.

Business Impact

Traffic & Repeat Visits

Purpose-driven campaigns bring guests in — and bring them back. Community connection builds loyalty.

Frozen XLB Sales

The fundraising mechanic drives meaningful trial of our frozen line — a long-term revenue engine unlocked by a moment of care.

Membership Growth

Emotional campaigns accelerate loyalty sign-ups — new guests become regulars when they feel part of something real.

Brand Impact

Employer Brand Signal

When a business fights for its people publicly, it sends a powerful message to future hires: we take care of each other here.

Deepened Community Trust

Authenticity builds what advertising cannot. A genuine act of care earns lasting goodwill with the Bellevue community.

Operations IS Marketing

This campaign proves the principle: how you run your business — how you treat your people — is your most powerful brand story.

Human Impact

For Chaniya

Real, meaningful financial support delivered to someone fighting the hardest battle of her life — raised by the people who know and love her.

For Every Guest Who Shows Up

Guests leave with more than a meal. They leave having participated in something larger — a genuine moment of human connection that turns a transaction into a memory.

People may forget
what we promoted.

They will remember how we showed up.

This May, Supreme Dumplings doesn't just serve food — we serve our community, our culture, and our own. For Chaniya. For all of us.
